

truth, justice, and prosperity. Proposals for new or expanded academic programs have their origins in existing areas of distinction, but welcome innovation and embrace the demands of changing markets and emerging careers. Goals that work to enrich the student experience and promote retention hold closely the distinguishing features of a Yeshiva education, while accepting the challenge of responding to changes in students' perceptions, priorities, and purposes. Yeshiva embraces, and teaches, both history and opportunity. It elevates; it rises.

As students move from their formative years to Yeshiva's professional graduate schools, there is a shift in focus towards professional training and academic research. These schools, comprising a diverse student population, excel in their scholarship and education of excellent professionals in their respective fields. These schools also embody Yeshiva's core values to "Seek Truth, Discover Your Potential, Live Your Values, Act with Compassion and Bring Redemption," in their respective learning communities. They also follow a Jewish calendar and maintain kosher standards to facilitate an accessible experience to our Orthodox Jewish students. But the focus is wholly different and so are the assumptions of student life.

Process:

planning spreadsheet, the deans then prepared and submitted draft implementation templates for each school; these templates catalogued the activities that each dean and school would undertake in support of the objectives in the strategic plan. During mid- and late the

But what differentiates Yeshiva is not just naming, claiming allegiance to, or teaching the five Torah values, nor even the ways in which they influence the University's work and articulate its priorities—thou

Fo nda ion

The first

Goal 8: YU Going Global

Yeshiva

Goal 10: Outcomes—Great Jobs and Impactful Careers

Through both academic and co-curricular programs, ensure that graduates of Yeshiva's undergraduate and graduate schools are well prepared for meaningful and successful careers.

Objectives

1. Integrate in Yeshiva's undergraduate and graduate programs exceptional career development, preparation, facilitation, and placement services for students.
2. Further develop and increase enrollment in signature, high-impact graduate programs that respond to students' changing purposes and interests, answer the demands of the marketplace, and prepare